THE PROJECT

Name of the main project

PRESS - Periphery and Rural areas: European solidarity and Social inclusion

PRESS, coordinated by YouNet, aims to promote mobility and transnational volunteering as a non-traditional form of emancipation and learning, aimed in particular at young people with fewer opportunities, in order to obtain a better knowledge of the active role that they can play in their communities of origin as well as in society, for a transition to adulthood and the responsibilities that this entails. The project will involve 20 volunteers from all over Europe, who will volunteer in different venues and will carry out very different activities

Casa Santa Chiara is a center for people with disabilities located in Bologna, but it has many other locations also out of the city where volunteers might be asked to carry on activities.

The volunteers will be mostly inserted in the socializing and integration activities for the users, such as the social-recreational activities and the participation in the initiatives promoted by the territory. Besides, they are expected to work side by side with the staff members in some daily common activities (workshops, physical activity, trips, special events...).

All together, volunteers will develop some common projects, p.e. the video about the project, radio interviews, public language tandems, events...

Context & Environment

Volunteers will be actively embedded in the multiethnic and stimulating environment of Bologna, so they can act as protagonists thus making the most of the unique opportunity of the ESC. This close contact with the local community and their active participation in volunteering, informative and formative activities, will widely enhance the growing possibility for the volunteers. The volunteer will be involved in an European environment with other young people and will have the chance to learn about European institutions and programmes, especially regarding youth policies and opportunities.
