And of course, you will have the opportunity to realize personal projects and to be creative.

Amicale Laïque Dacquoise

ALD aims to promote and defend secularism by contributing to the progress of education in all its forms and in a spirit of openness.

As a matter of principle, ALD is open to all with respect for individual convictions and absolute independence regarding political parties and religious groups. Any political propaganda or any religious proselytism is prohibited within the Association.

The childhood and youth sector, the main sector of the association

It means by this, in complementarity with the school and all other sporting, cultural and social structures, to collaborate in their physical, moral and civic training. (...) In addition, ALD will be able to support young people or groups of young people who will engage in autonomous projects, concerning citizenship, solidarity, humanitarianism, environment, access to culture, sport and nature, ...

The "Training; Consulting in the development of "projects"; insertion

Offer training to children and young people, or any other public, in the context, particularly, of professional training.

Accompany local authorities, associations or any other structure respecting the values carried by ALD, in the development and implementation of projects in the childhood/youth sector.

Propose integration actions, by accompanying or managing various projects.

The Sports, Leisure and Outdoor Activities Sector for children, young people, adults, seniors, families... ALD offers various sports, cultural and outdoor activities, ... in compliance with the rules of supervision, hygiene and safety applicable to sports disciplines practiced by its members.
