IDEA AND PROJECT ACTIVITIES

The JFE want, this presented project, to be as multifaceted as possible, in order to raise awareness of the local community that will contact the volunteers, who have very different personal and professional interests. This need is based on the building of an open society to pluralism, interculturalism, tolerance, protection of the environment and all other European values. From this we define our next general objectives:

- Promote the knowledge of other cultures, foment the dialogue, intercultural and intergenerational learning, as well as dealing with difference;
- To increase the skills, knowledge, attitudes and methods for the social inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities (including refugees, asylum seekers or migrants) by improvement their personal development, involvement as a citizen active in society and employability in the European labour market;
- Stimulating young people's critical thinking and initiative;
- Aware the young people of the importance of volunteering;
- Support the professional development of workers in training and youth sector by innovating and improving the quality training and youth work throughout Europe through non-formal and informal learning methods;
- The promotion of Sport, Environment and Multimedia as educational and inclusion tools;
- Foment the creativity with new methods and actions aimed at promoting good environmental practice;
- Endow the young with new personal and professional abilities for the organization/participation in cultural events;
- Encouraging the participation of young people in the democratic life of Europe;
- Promote the agreement of the young Europeans, contributing for the establishment of communication networks and partnerships.

Short description of activities:

The tasks to be performed by the volunteers, will depend on his skills and knowledge, and will be adapted to the profile of each one of them, however, the activities that we consider appropriate in view of the general objectives presented:

- Summer Camps for children between 6 and 12 years old, giving know about the culture of the country of origin (Spain, France and Italy), music, gastronomy and traditional games;
- Promote informal lectures on European mobility and the experience in the ESC;
- Develop Eurodesk activities such as European Youth Year and Time to Move;
- Collaborate in the organization of cultural activities that are part of the annual plan of JFE events and commemorations of thematic days;
- Collaborate with the coordinators of environment management in monitoring the rivers and local biodiversity;
- Promote and collaborate in the organization of campaigns, conferences and lectures about nature conservation, sustainable development, efficient use of resources and “Street without butts”;
- Development of personal projects for volunteers, at JFE and the Ermesinde community;
- Develop sport activities in the local community;
- Produce graphic material (PWP, Videos, News) for local, national and European impact through its publication in social networks and other media within reach of the 4 organizations.

TARGET GROUPS

For this volunteering project we will have 3 volunteers and are intended to be young people with fewer opportunities, with social, economic and / or geographical difficulties (including refugees, asylum seekers or migrants), and that have a profile that is characteristic and adaptable to the tasks proposed. They should be dynamic, versatile and demonstrate a capacity for autonomy and a taste for teamwork, presenting characteristics of communicative, available, flexible and creative nature.

Volunteers should demonstrate interest at working for the community in general, including in the areas of work with children and young people, sport, multimedia, for the protection of nature and cultural.

Volunteers should be motivated to learn a foreign language (Portuguese).

HOSTING ORGANIZATION

Applicant of this project is “Junta da Freguesia de Ermesinde” (JFE). In organizational terms, JFE has a standard structure, subordinated to a democratically elected representative. In a large organizational chart, the following areas are highlighted: culture, education, social action, environment, youth, sports, free time activities, citizenship and civic participation and entrepreneurship.

Each of these departments has teams with high competences and experience in organizing and booster the local community, developing various initiatives for the promotion of the various valences for the action areas mentioned, which rules the organization.

In the technical staff, the JFE has about 60 employees in various areas of intervention. The JFE is a public body, responsible for the mayoralty and local administration, developing in parallel activities of social, cultural and environmental nature.

As regards these areas of action, the JFE increments a follow-up work and proximity in the organization and promotion of occupational activities of leisure, under environmental and educational support to families, as well as to promote local activities and events.

There is a crucial focus on streamlining and organizing vacation camps, workshops and seminars under themes such as social inclusion, gender equality, employment promotion, dissemination and sustainability policies of green economy added to the development of retraining and promotion of the green areas of the parish.

The JFE is characterized by an active participation in collaboration and institutional, financial and human support to different associations of the city, responsible for the development of different types of animation, cultural and human enrichment, close to local communities and its action groups. It should be noted the constant concern in the support and development of support systems for young people, as part of its professional valorization and development of youth and personal skills. In view of the foregoing, the JFE feels the increasingly urgent need for dissemination and awareness of all young people to the importance of a global and European society, contributing to the search for a more inclusive and cohesive society that will motivate the citizens to play an active role in democratic life, to promote social integration, improve intercultural understanding and to promote sustainable development and green citizenship.

In this context, we seek to create a set of initiatives in the city, contributing to the awareness of young people of Ermesinde in relation to European ideals and values of an international community society extended to the Member States of the Union, in order to encourage mobility and entrepreneurship of young people, encourage the approach of different European cultures contribute to interculturality, pluralism, tolerance, non-discrimination, solidarity and social justice, arousing consciences and opening European horizons in the local community.

In the space of just over 5 years, JFE already has a wide range of European mobility activities, including:

Ermesinde has about 50.000 (fifty thousand) habitants and 12,500 (twelve thousand and five hundred) familiar lodgings, being a metropolitan zone strongly urbanize, due to its privileged location, which facilitates the access of the population to Porto, a valuable place in trade, services and tourism. In terms of accessibility, the city is served by an important railway network (Minho and Douro's lines) and benefits from the proximity to the highways of the region (A4, A3 and A41), with links to other national highways. To highlight, the proximity to the “Airport Francisco Sá Carneiro” and the new Porto Cruise Terminal (South Cruise Terminal in Leixões), both located in neighboring counties.

Most of the population works in services. However, the industry also assumes an important role in the zone and there are also people who works in agriculture, but those represents a number less significant, crossing time. It’s common to find and meet people who live in Ermesinde, but who works during the week in Porto, due the proximity of the two cities.

Culturally, Ermesinde is each time plus an active city. The population has to its disposal different initiatives, such as theatre, dance or expositions, for example. Most of these shares has place in the Cultural Centre of Ermesinde. Youth local associations, like JFE, also provides different types of cultural activities.
