VOLUNTARIAT
SOCI SLOVENIJA

Javni Zavod Mladi Zmaji is a network of innovative district youth centres that the city of Ljubljana is using to activate young people and give them a chance to change their lives. Youth centres offer all sorts of activities for youth. Programmes include opportunities for non-formal and informal learning and everyday socialising, where visitors can gain new knowledge and skills, meet interesting people, broaden their horizons, get motivation and overcome their own limitations. Youth centres are like a public living room where young people can get information, make friends, gain self-confidence and learn social skills. They are safe places where young people meet supportive adults and also a place where they have the opportunity to take part in organised workshops and events with the support of mentors or develop their own projects. Youth workers employed there focus on maintaining a safe, respectful and creative environment. Javni zavod Mladi Zmaji cooperates with the local community, district schools, centres for social services, youth organisations and NGOs in Ljubljana and Slovenia, universities, volunteers. We have 4 youth centres and a mobile / street unit of youth workers; each one different from the other.

TiPovej! is an embassy of a creative society. We believe that people who can present their ideas clearly have a greater chance of success. And the greater the number of people who can realize their ideas, the more developed and successful the society. That is why we devise, organize and implement different workshops at schools, NGOs and youth centres for supporting the process of idea development. We bring successful individuals / entrepreneurs and young people together to help youngsters find their own creativity, teach them creative thinking and search for new solutions. TiPovej! is also a member of a newly established Youth network for career development, where we work with other NGOs in Ljubljana to support young people in finding their passions and building the path to achieving their ideal careers.
