

Europe in my apprenticeship centre

Purple Campus Alès

The role of Purple Campus is to answer the needs of local companies in terms of recruitment. Therefore its mission is to develop young people's skills in order to assist them in their career plans.

In order to achieve those objectives, Purple Campus has created a campus composed of 17 apprenticeship centres in the Occitanie region. The aim of these centres is to encourage creativity and innovation in order to be able to deal with new challenges and future issues. The centres have an international dimension with mobility programmes for the students and apprentices. Their partnerships with different foreign schools also contribute to their international profile. It is for all these reasons that we would like to host volunteers in our apprenticeship centre in Alès.

ACTIVITY DESCRIPTION

The Europe House in Nîmes – Europe Direct and the hosting organization, Purple Campus Alès are looking for a volunteer for a 10 months project in Alès (between mountains and the sea : « Door to the Cévennes »), a town in the south of France. The aim of the project is to facilitate intercultural exchanges between the volunteer and the apprentices (between 15 and 22 years old on average). His/her activities will be using non-formal learning methods to create and carry out workshops for young people. Most of the activities of the volunteer will be linked to the English language, to European culture, to ecology, to new technologies and to tolerance, human rights and health and safety. A big part of the volunteering will be dedicated to volunteer's personal projects and implementing new ideas/activities. Other activities will be linked with the House of Europe: workshops with children, multicultural events, information stands..

The volunteer will meet the other volunteers during the Wednesday afternoons in the House of Europe in Nîmes.
